Truck Driver Strikes Pinch Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Most of the nation's truck fleet rolled across the highways today after the end of a three-day lockout, but 56,000 Chicago drivers and dock workers remained off the job and turned back trucks from other points.

As a result of the nationwide lockout, tons of merchandise remained stacked up at loading docks and warehouses. Spokesmen estimated thousands of plant workers would remain idle the rest of the week before operations return to normal and depleted supplies are replenished.

The auto industry, unable to get parts, still had some 24,000 workers laid off.

Chicago was hardest hit, however, with thousands of factory workers idle and food shortages threatened if the local work stoppage continues.

Chicago's 4,700 trucking firms, their drivers and dock workers were not parties to the tentative agreement reached Wednesday in Washington between the Teamsters Union and long-haul truckers.

A federal mediator scheduled a new negotiating session in Chicago today in an effort to end the work stoppage.

Trucking Employers Inc. estimated 250,000 Teamsters members were idled by the nationwide lockout it ordered Sunday in retaliation for scattered drivers' strike against some members of the organization.

The Chicago workers, members of the Teamsters Union and an independent union on strike, halted most truck traffic in the city and turned back hundreds of trucks which had set out from other cities after the national settlement.

Some long-haul drivers turned back by pickets started back to their home depots. Others telephoned their employers for instructions.

The strike also barred Chicago-based long-haul drivers from heading for out-of-state points.

Long-hauls from Denver and Indiana were among those being routed around Chicago to avoid local pickets.

A Zenith Corp. spokesman said 10,000 of its employees were idle in eight Chicago area plants and warehouses because of the work stoppage. Four Motorola, Inc., plants employing 5,000 persons prepared to shut down because of a shortage of supplies.

More than 80 railroad cars of meat valued at millions of dollars remained undelivered in freight yards of the Chicago and North Western Railway and the Illinois Central Railroad.

Reds Blow Up Bridges Near Big U.S. Base

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces below the demilitarized zone wrecked two bridges today that carried heavy supply traffic for U.S. Marines defending South Vietnam's most threatened province.

Ground fighting generally continued at a low pitch, and the U.S. command announced casualty figures for last week reflecting the drop in major action. The report said 177 Americans and 1,478 Communists were killed last week and 1,345 Americans were wounded. All these figures were below the average of recent weeks.

However, Vietnamese army casualties increased about 40 per cent over the week before to 284 killed and 69 missing. Some of the increase was due to activity in the northern part of South Vietnam, including the Communist attack on the provincial capital of Quang Tri last week-end.

The two bridges that the Communists brought down were on the main highway from the Marine base at Da Nang to Quang Tri.

The biggest was a quarter-mile-long railway and highway bridge six miles above Da Nang. Communist swimmers before dawn apparently floated explosives into place against one of the support towers, and the explosion brought down two of the five spans.

Forty-five U.S. Marines were stationed at the bridge, and two sentries were patrolling it at the time but saw nothing. Marine divers found parts of the body of one Vietnamese in the water, apparently a casualty of the explosion, but none of the Marines was injured.

The second bridge was a smaller structure just outside Quang Tri City which was knocked out during a 150-round mortar barrage fired against the city. Eight civilians were reported killed by the barrage.

King War Talk Worries Civil Rights Leaders

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King's outspoken opposition to the Vietnam war has raised fears of stiffening white reaction among civil rights leaders, but few think it will have an appreciable effect on local rights issues, an Associated Press survey indicates.

The conclusion was drawn from interviews with Negro and white officials in cities around the nation.

"We hear it and we don't," said the Rev. P.H. Lewis, a Negro leader in Selma, Ala., where King staged a massive voting rights drive in 1965. "I don't think it will have any great effect. I don't think it will hurt us."

But in San Francisco, Percy Steele, a Negro and executive director of the Bay Area Urban League, said: "It's a mistake to put the two issues together. It kind of fragments the whole force of the civil rights movement."

Steele said King's stand weakens the civil rights movement and will hurt the war effort.

The interviews reflected a close division of favorable and unfavorable reactions to King's position opposing U.S. involvement in Vietnam. Several persons said King's statements offered an excuse for white resistance to the civil rights movement.

King, replying to criticism, said Wednesday in Los Angeles he had not advocated a fusion of the civil rights and peace movements. He said a myth to that effect had developed and said it was a nonexistent issue.

Defining his position on the war, King said: "I feel this war in Vietnam is damaging to the soul of our nation. It is hurting the civil rights movement more than my taking a stand on the war. I do not believe our nation can be a moral leader of justice, equality and democracy if it is trapped in the role of a self-appointed world policeman."

Chemist Bolsters State's Case In Coppolino Trial

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — The chemist who probed the embalmed body of Carmela Coppolino for traces of succinylcholine chloride has testified, "It was there."

Dr. Charles Joseph Umberger, chief toxicologist for the New York City medical examiner, said the discovery surprised him.

Umberger testified Wednesday as a prosecution witness in the murder trial of Carmela's former husband and accused killer, Dr. Carl Coppolino.

The state claims that Coppolino injected his wife with a fatal dose of the paralytic drug.

Previously, the drug was thought to be undetectable after death.

Defense Attorney F. Lee Bailey says he expects to show that Umberger's findings are "meaningless."

Merger Accord

PETOSKEY (AP) — Agreement to merge Penn-Dixie Cement Corp. and Pacific Coast Co. was announced Wednesday by the two firms.

Fred L. Doolittle, president of Penn-Dixie, and Delbert W. Coleman, chairman of Pacific, said the agreement was subject to stockholders' approval.

Speck's Sisters, Mother Testify

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Margaret Lindbergh stepped from the witness stand, raised her eyes and covered her face with both hands.

Speck's mother was the second witness. She appeared in a plain black dress with her gray hair fixed in tight curls.

The other members of the family called were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thornton of Chicago; Howard Speck and Madeleine Thornton of Menomonee, Ill.; Shirley Jensen of Alexis, Ill.; and Erma Holman of Galesburg, Ill.

Most of the family remained composed throughout their testimony, but Mrs. Holman held back tears when she said, "I saw him (Speck) twice, once in April and again in Chicago — in July."

Mrs. Eugene Thornton was on the witness stand the longest of any family member. She and her husband gave the defendant a home for two months last year and added him in obtaining a job as a merchant seaman.

Mrs. Thornton, a tall, slender brunette, said she gave her brother 25 July 11, and again July 13. She last saw him, before the jury was sworn, at 9 a.m. July 13.

UN Protests Red Intrusion In South Zone

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — About 100 North and South Korean soldiers exchanged fire for two hours before dawn today in the biggest border clash since the 1953 Korean armistice. At least three North Koreans and one South Korean were killed.

It was the third clash in the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea in two weeks. At least 12 Koreans have been killed, 11 of them from the North.

The South Korean government charged the Communists with trying to cause unrest to affect the South Korean presidential election May 3.

The United Nations command said the gunfire today started when a 12-man South Korean patrol spotted three North Korean intruders about 425 yards south of the armistice line dividing the demilitarized zone.

It said that when the patrol attacked the intruders, it was fired on by a reinforced North Korean platoon of 40 to 60 men.

Two South Korean officers and 34 enlisted men moved up to help the outnumbered patrol. The command said, and the South Koreans began firing artillery — the first reported use of artillery since the armistice.

Besides the one South Korean killed, three others were wounded, the U.N. command reported.

The South Korean army said the Communists left behind three bodies when they withdrew north of the demilitarized zone. The clash occurred about 70 miles northeast of Seoul near the "Iron Triangle" of Korean War days.

The U.N. command called for the joint observer team to conduct an on-the-spot investigation of the incident later today and demanded a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission Friday to protest the Communist actions.

Apparently no U.S. soldiers were involved in today's clash.

U.S. 2nd Division soldiers and North Koreans clashed in the demilitarized zone April 5. The U.N. command, which is headed by a U.S. general, said four North Koreans were killed. North Korea claimed five of its civil policemen were killed.

Adenauer, 91, Seriously Ill

BONN, Germany (AP) — Konrad Adenauer, seriously ill with flu and bronchitis, was weakening today.

A bulletin from the home of the 91-year-old former chancellor of West Germany said: "The organism's powers of resistance are declining. Heart and circulatory functions are weaker. His personal physician and doctors of Bonn University under the direction of Prof. Adolf Heymer are continuing to care for the patient."

Heymer, head of the university hospital, left Adenauer's house late this morning through the back entrance, shaking his head to newsmen's requests for information.

One visitor today was Konrad Adenauer, the ex-chancellor's eldest son, who is an executive of a coal firm in Cologne. He and his wife looked concerned but would not speak to reporters.

LBJ Promises Try For Tariff Breaks

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — President Johnson challenged his Latin colleagues at the summit today to make this "a decade of urgency" for the hemisphere.

In his first formal speech at the 19-nation meeting, Johnson called for 10 years of intensive efforts on a broad front to speed the social and economic development of the Americas.

"I speak to you as a ready partner in that effort," he said.

Actually, Johnson's formal remarks were less attention-getting and significant than those he delivered Wednesday at a private session with his summit colleagues.

His earlier, informal statement had the look of a dramatic bid to still the clamor for more direct aid to Latin American nations.

Eager To Help

In his formal speech, the U.S. chief executive ticked off areas in which he said the United States was ready and eager to help — to support a proposed Latin-American common market, to help build big projects for all developing countries, to help modernize agriculture, and to promote better health and education.

"I pledge to you today," he said, "that I will do all I can, in my time of leadership, to help you meet these challenges."

In his first conference statement at a private meeting Wednesday, Johnson touched on two of the touchiest points at issue — the Latin Americans' desire for preferential treatment for their products in the U.S. market and their desire for relaxation of Washington's requirement that equipment purchased with U.S. loans and grants be bought in the U.S. market.

No Firm Commitments

The President promised his Latin-American colleagues he would try to gain worldwide tariff concession for developing nations and would consider granting them freedom to spend certain kinds of U.S. aid money outside the United States. While Johnson's statement was calculated to put his fellow presidents in a receptive mood, he had no firm commitments.

Touching on the question of trade, he promised to explore the possibility of "temporary tariff advantages for all developing countries by all industrialized nations."

Red Chinese Musician Defects; Now In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Chinese sources say that Ma Szun-tung, a cultural leader and violinist, fled his Communist China homeland last January in a small tugboat later found abandoned near Hong Kong.

The musician, whose escape was revealed Wednesday after he and his family were granted asylum in the United States, refused to comment on the report from his refuge at his brother's Manhattan apartment.

The Hong Kong sources with Nationalist Chinese contacts said today Ma was one of 12 escapees aboard the Communist ship and added they believed his son, Julien, 20, was with his father.

Ma's wife and their daughter, Celia, 23, were understood to have taken a different route to freedom, according to the sources which refused to be quoted by name or position.

Ma told newsmen Wednesday he fled after spending "103 days in a dreadful hideout for devils and demons" and undergoing "what is too painful to describe" at the hands of young Red Guard terrorists.

"There is no hope for people like me in China," said the 54-year-old musician.

He refused to talk about how he escaped, saying the safety of too many persons in Red China would be jeopardized. The Chinese sources said Ma and his son waited in hiding in Hong Kong until the wife and daughter got out.

The sources were deliberately vague about the women's escape and refused to say whether they sought U.S. asylum through U.S. Consulate officials in Hong Kong or made their way to Taipei and asked for asylum there.

The tug, painted with Communist Chinese slogans, was towed into Hong Kong harbor last Jan. 19 after it was found abandoned off Lan Tao Island.

State Prisons Hold 400 Men Condemned To Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 400 men wait today in the death rows of state prisons, condemned to die for a crime.

Among them is Lester E. Morford II in Nevada, scheduled to die April 19 for slaying a bridegroom. Among them was Aaron Mitchell executed in California Wednesday for killing a policeman.

The number of executions in the United States has declined steadily in recent years. There was only one last year, in Oklahoma. Mitchell was the first this year.

The big majority of states have carried out no executions for years.

Many condemned men have gotten new chances because of recent court decisions prescribing new rules on the rights of criminals. Some governors have commuted sentences to life, and some have followed an undeclared moratorium on death by execution.

More state legislatures were discussing abolishing the death penalty this year than in previous years.

An Associated Press survey showed that bills to abolish capital punishment were introduced in at least 18 state legislatures.

They have failed in eight of these states and are given little chance of approval in five more. Bills still are considered alive in Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, Tennessee and Connecticut.

AARON CHARLES MITCHELL, 37, was executed in California's San Quentin Prison gas chamber Wednesday. He had been sentenced for the murder of a policeman during a Sacramento, Calif., robbery in 1963 and lost an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court Monday. He was the first to die in the San Quentin gas chamber since Jan. 23, 1963. (AP Wirephoto)

Claim O'Brian Admits Slaying

GRAND LEDGE (AP) — Police today sought a murder warrant against Donald V. O'Brian, an Ionia State Hospital escapee who Chief William Eveleth said told of strangling 10-year-old Rona Cypher.

Eveleth said O'Brian, 40, signed a written statement telling of the slaying, after undergoing a polygraph (lie detector) test at the East Lansing State Police Post Wednesday.

He said O'Brian told him things about the killing that only the slayer would have known. Police declined to elaborate.

The little Grand Ledge girl's body was found April 1 in shallow waters of the Grand River. An autopsy showed that she had been raped and strangled, police said.

O'Brian was held overnight at the Ionia County Jail, pending circuit court arraignment on a charge that he escaped confinement as a criminal sexual psychopath. That arraignment tentatively was set for Friday.

Eveleth said O'Brian told of the slaying and then signed a written statement. Two other police officers were present when O'Brian made his statements, Eveleth said.

The police chief said O'Brian gave as a reason for the alleged slaying that "he just had an urge. He stated he had followed another girl and she went into a house and he happened to spot this other (Rona Cypher) girl. It could have been anyone."

The body has been removed to the Boyce Funeral Home where funeral arrangements will be completed later today.

Library Federation Changes Book Habit

As the Upper Peninsula marks National Library Week next week it'll have something more impressive than book circulation figures to report.

The big new thing in the U.P. in public book lending is the library federations. There are two of them, the Eastern Peninsula Library Federation in Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce counties, and the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation in Iron, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft and Alger counties.

The Mid-Pen Federation embraces seven city or county libraries in six counties: Manistique, Gladstone, Escanaba, Menominee County, Dickinson County, Munising and Crystal Falls, and library station in Schoolcraft County at Cooks, Gulliver, and Germfask; in Alger at Trenary, Chatham and Grand Marais; in Delta at Nahma and Garden and in Iron at Iron River.

Two County Systems

The counties of Menominee and Dickinson have county library systems with bookmobiles circulating books so they need no stations. The Federation has a truck which taken the Federation's collection of over 12,000 books from the Iron Mountain headquarters around to the member libraries and stations, from the reference center in the Escanaba Library and from the film library in the Gladstone Library.

The Federation is part of a statewide program operated under the Michigan State Library and the Michigan State Board for Libraries and it receives its funds from penal fines, from state and federal aids and from contributions from its member libraries on a per capita basis. It has been operative since 1965 and it is rated successful by library board members familiar with its operation.

Stations Succeed

They say that its chief need at this point as it works to implement its goal of providing library service for every resident of the six county area, is more public knowledge of the services offered.

The city libraries have contracted to provide library services to adjacent rural areas and at other points without library services the stations have been set up. They are staffed with volunteer librarians who have done an outstanding work, Federation officials say. The station at Nahma was cited by Mrs. Harold Anderson, Gladstone librarian, as an example of outstanding circulation of good books in a community previously regarded as too small for library services. Miss Carol Anderson is in charge. Books are changed monthly.

12 Films Monthly

The Gladstone Library handles 12 films each month for the Federation from the Flint Public Library. Most of the films are for adults, and they include travel movies and Disney like "Beaver Valley" and some children's films like the popular "Red Balloon." In March said Mrs. Anderson, 8,000 persons saw movies provided by the Mid-Pen Federation.

The officers and directors of the Federation board are: Victor Powers, Escanaba, chairman; Earl LaBrasseur, Manistique, vice-chairman; Mrs. D. A. Jondrow, Gladstone, secretary; Ralph Secord, Iron Mountain, treasurer and director of the Federation; Paul Trione, Norway; Mrs. Frances Lombard, Hermansville; Mrs. J. R. Davidson, Crystal Falls; Robert St. Louis, Kingsford and Mrs. Richard Nebel, Jr., Munising.

Hit By Truck, Boy, 7, Dies

BULLETIN

Lane Wood, 7, who was struck by a pickup truck on Ludington street this morning, died at St. Francis Hospital where he had been taken for treatment.

A seven year old Escanaba boy was struck by a pickup truck and seriously injured about 10:47 a.m. today when he ran from behind a parked car into Ludington St. in front of the Escanaba Area Junior High School.

The victim was identified as Lane Wood, son of Mrs. John (June) Besaw, 532 N. 20th St. Driver of the pickup truck was Joseph Pinar, 37, of Rte. 1, Gladstone. He was not held.

The boy was taken to St. Francis Hospital by police officers Joseph Pryal and John Rabitoy. Rabitoy, who was off duty, had just come from a barber shop when the accident happened and he lifted the boy from the pavement and carried him to the hospital in the patrol car.

Details on the boy's condition were not immediately available. Witnesses said Lane and another boy had been playing near the Junior High shortly before the accident. Pinar had just left Northern Motor Co. and was westbound on Ludington St., said he saw the second boy, who has not been identified, running on the lawn of the school but didn't see the Wood boy until he dashed into the path of his truck.

Pinar applied the brakes but couldn't stop in time to avoid the accident. The boy, after being hit, rolled some 40 or 50 feet to the corner of Ludington St. and N. 16th St.

Escanaba Area school authorities said they could find no registration of the boy in any school in the area, either public or parochial.

Auto Factories Recall Workers

DETROIT (AP)—Auto factories recalled thousands of laid-off workers today in the wake of the trucking industry peace agreement.

The industry had suffered a national pinch on car parts because of the trucking shutdown. Potential idleness faced 24,000 men this week.

Most of the layoffs lasted no more than a day and the bulk of the workers were expected back on the job today. Some may not return until Monday, however.

Ford Motor Co. rescinded a layoff of 1,200 workers at its Wayne trucking plant and called back thousands of other employees in five states.

Chrysler said 2,500 men at its Warren truck plant, and 650 at St. Louis, Mo., all laid off since noon Tuesday, would work today. These were Chrysler's only layoffs.

General Motors planned an early recall of 5,000 workers in Pontiac.

Ford recalls were in Kansas City, Louisville, Ky.; Lima, Ohio, and Mahwah, N.J. Ford said its layoffs at St. Louis and Lorraine, Ohio, might last until Friday or Monday.

Road Toll Is 2,295 In 1966

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents set records of 2,296 killed and 156,694 injured in Michigan last year, State Police said in a final tabulation Wednesday.

The former records were 2,175 killed in 1965 and 155,258 injured in 1965.

Fatalities were up 180, or 7 per cent, over the 1965 record, with injuries up 1,436, or one per cent, over the 1965 record.

Last year was the fifth in a row that deaths increased. It was the eighth consecutive rise for injuries.

The 302,880 accidents reported was down 7,718, or 2.5 per cent, from the high of 310,598 in 1965 — after four successive years of increases.

The cost of highway accidents was estimated at a record $415 million, $30 million over the estimate for 1965.

Carmakers Hail Sales Upturn

DETROIT (AP) — There is glee among U.S. automakers today for the first time in months. Spring is here and in the first 10 days of April dealer sales topped those of the same period a year earlier.

It was the first time this year in which sales surpassed those of the comparable 10 days of 1966—the second best year in the industry's history.

"This is a firm indication that the spring selling market has opened up," said Thomas A. Coupe, American Motors vice president for sales, who reported an eight per cent gain in the April 1-10 period as compared with the same year-ago span.

This feeling was echoed by others in the industry, which is viewed by many as a bellwether of the nation's economy.

Dealer sales in this month's opening 10 days totaled 207,357, compared with 199,660 in the previous April 1-10 period. The gain was only 7,697 cars, but it represented 1967's first breakthrough.

January's sales were 17.5 per cent off the same 1966 month. February's down 23.8 per cent and March's 21.5 per cent lower.

Crittenton Home Is Added To Michigan Fund

The Florence Crittenton Association of America, an agency serving the needs of unmarried mothers, has been added to the Michigan United Fund group of 35 Michigan-serving State and National health and welfare agencies.

The amount of support from Michigan for the national agency will be determined May 2 in East Lansing at the annual MUF budget session.

The Florence Crittenton Association binds together efforts of 47 affiliates in 30 states. It speaks nationally on behalf of constructive, therapeutic services for all unwed mothers. It arouses the public conscience so that physical, emotional and social problems surrounding out-of-wedlock pregnancy may be dealt with effectively.

The incidence of out-of-wedlock pregnancy continues to rise and the protection of both mother and child is of increased concern to society. This is especially important for young unmarried mothers since they have their whole adult lives before them. Forty-one per cent of all illegitimate births are to mothers under 20 years of age.

Skillful medical, social and educational services given at the time they are needed, and guidance in planning for the best interests of the baby, strengthen the mother's ability to become a contributing member of society.

There are two Florence Crittenton Homes in Michigan, one in Detroit and one in Jackson which are already receiving support from local united campaigns.

Study Shows: Visitors Should Pay For Parking

Should visiting motorists be allowed to park for free in Escanaba?

The answer is no, so far as a recent study and recommendation received by City Manager George Harvey is concerned.

The city manager said he concurs in the finding reported to him by Police Chief Harold Finman and City Clerk Don Guindon. The city manager had requested the study be made.

The question of issuing courtesy parking tickets to motorists who visit Escanaba has come up from time to time over a period of years—ever since the parking meters were installed.

"Upon investigation of other cities in the Upper Peninsula, namely Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, we do not feel that a policy of courtesy parking tickets should be instituted in Escanaba," the police chief and city clerk reported.

College-Business Session To Hear Panax President

A College-Business Symposium will be held on Tuesday, April 18, at Michigan Technological University, Houghton, it was announced today by Harry R. Hall, president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

Students from all universities and colleges in Michigan's Upper Peninsula have been invited to attend the symposium which is designed to enable students and businessmen to exchange ideas on some of the problems of business that affect the economy and, in turn, affect the student's future position in the economy.

Formal presentations will include "The Role of Profits in Your Job Future," by John McGoff, president of Panax Corp., Lansing.

Panax Corp. is publisher of the Escanaba Daily Press, Iron Mountain News and Mining Journal at Marquette in the Upper Peninsula; and operates newspapers, radio and TV stations in the Midwest.

Dr. T. R. Norton, assistant director, the Independent Laboratories, Dow Chemical Co., Midland; and Thomas R. McWilliams, assistant to the president, Michigan Chrome and Chemical Co., Detroit, are others on the program.

Ralph E. Huhtala, manager, personnel and public relations, Lake Shore, Inc., Iron Mountain and member of the board of directors and former vice chairman of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce will preside.

During the afternoon session, moderated by Hall, a student panel will share the platform with the business panel. Both groups will express their views on various issues determined by questions from the audience.

Hunting License Violations Bring Expensive Fines

A total of 22 deer hunters have paid over $1,000 in fines and costs after pleading guilty to charges of making false statements in procuring a Michigan resident deer hunting license for the 1966 season, Robert W. Timmer, Escanaba, district three law supervisor, reported today.

Timmer said the arrests were made as a result of weeks of checking all license stubs in the hands of dealers by Conservation officers and followup checks on actual place of residence by Federal Game Agent Richard Blazell of Escanaba and law enforcement agencies of other states.

He said other cases are still under investigation and individuals involved will be contacted in the near future.

The law states that a person has to actually live in the state for the preceding six months prior to making application for a resident license. The fact that a person formerly lived in Michigan or owns property or can vote in the state does not give authority to purchase a resident license, Timmer said.

District three includes Delta and Marquette counties and the western half of Alger County. Total of fines and costs levied in the 22 cases was $1,075.90. Previously unreported cases are:

John Touthak, 24, Chicago, appeared before A. J. Mortier, paid $35 fine and $7.30 costs; Robert G. Szableski, 28, Milwaukee, before Mortier, $42.70 fine and $7.30 costs;

U.P. Exhibit Reminder

Crafts Seek Growth

By JEAN WORTH
The eighth annual Upper Peninsula Crafts Fair will set up camp on the Michigan Tech campus at Houghton on Saturday, Apr. 29, and the hundreds who will visit it will wonder why handicrafting is such a small duck in the U. P.

The art, or business, has had lots of good counsel. Its best products have been praised by the discriminating. Countless prophets have said that it has a great future in converting distinctive local woods and minerals into unique products.

But there's no one in the huge spread of the Upper Peninsula making a living solely by handicrafting today. With a potential that is apparent and everywhere acknowledged, the crafts industry has never been able to support a full time handicrafter in the U. P.

When the Upper Peninsula Crafts Council meets at Tech in connection with its annual crafts and native industries exhibit and conference, it will hear that the federal government has turned thumbs down on a technical assistance project designed to put U. P. crafting on a business basis. The project isn't dead, says Paul Harkonen of UPCCAP, but it will have to seek a new approach to federal encouragement.

The Houghton crafts fair will be another reminder of the excellence of some U. P. handicrafting, and of the difficulty of organizing it so that it gets out of the hobby stage and becomes an industry, using good design in the creation of distinctive gift items, marketing them to tourists who visit the U. P. and sending the rest of the production to shops elsewhere.

There is not enough U. P. market, analysts say, to support a thriving crafts industry for it alone, but the trade is in such low estate today that there is not even enough U. P. production now to supply the U. P. gift shops.

The faithful who keep the Crafts Council going are educators like Charles Folio of the University of Michigan and Marvin and Monica Zehnder, Owen Shapiro and Curtis Stephens of Northern Michigan University and the Peninsula's artist craftsmen.

They include Mrs. Milton Scherer of Trout Lake, a weaver who is president of the Crafts Council; Miss Olive Craig, a silversmith from Brimley; Alice Reynolds of Eagle River, a ceramic slab artist; Mr. and Mrs. Eino Millen of Ahnapee and Copper Harbor; lapidarists and jewelers; Miss Ella Karsikas of Laurium, a silversmith; Dorothea Buell of Chassell, a weaver; Harold Plichta of Manistique and his son, Bruce, wood product manufacturers; Bruce Lahti of Hancock, potter; and Gordon Goehring of Hessel, ceramist.

Mrs. Brockway Myers, president of the Copper Country Associated Artists will welcome craftsmen to the Copper Country at the conference; Paul Harkonen of UPCCAP will report on its survey of U. P. crafts and Fletcher Johnson of Calumet will tell the function of the Michigan Council of the Arts in the U. P. He's the U. P. member and director of the Keweenaw Playhouse.

Michael Wanlum of the University of Wisconsin will head a panel on the marketing of crafts. Panelists will include Mrs. Marian Gilles of Houghton, Mrs. Miller of Copper Harbor and Harkonen.

The demonstrations will include copper tooling and enameling by CCAA members and rosemaking by Mrs. Niron Virch of Marquette. The program will last from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. at the Tech Union.

Spring Clean-Up On City Program

The City of Escanaba is engaged in spring clean-up activities, and this suggests that residents of the community join in the program to give Escanaba that well-scrubbed look for summer.

City Manager George Harvey reports that all of the city's winter equipment has been switched over for summer operations.

"At the parks and recreation areas the outdoor slides, swings and so forth, have been put in place and will soon be ready for the summer season. The crews are engaged in taking down the snow fence and removing the stakes," he said.

Streets and alleys are being graded and the winter's accumulation of cinders from the steam plant are being used for

Club that the city limit boat mooring at the L-dock, so that visiting boatmen may be accommodated. This would require the city to install additional boat slips, and is a budget matter, said the city manager.

The city's new harbor master building and public toilets at the yacht basin is proceeding in construction by the public works department, and crews hope to have the porch completed and the building painted within a couple of weeks.

Jackson Mother Chosen Mrs. Michigan '67

JACKSON (AP)—Mrs. Michigan of 1967 is slim and vivacious and packs a lot of energy in her 117 pounds, 5-foot-6½ inches.

Brown-haired Mrs. Marshall J. Hungerford, 30, mother of three sons, holds the title and will be a contender for Mrs. America honors at San Diego, Calif., May 4-14.

A charm school worker part-time, Mrs. Hungerford was named Mrs. Michigan by a panel of judges on the strength of her accomplishments as a mother and homemaker, plus her personality and other attributes.

The excitement of possibly being chosen Mrs. Michigan weighed more heavily upon her husband than herself.

The Hungerfords had to wait about two weeks to learn the decision after Mrs. Hungerford had been chosen one of the three finalists.

"He said if we didn't learn learn soon he'd have a case of ulcers," Mrs. Hungerford laughed. Hubby is secretary of the Hungerford Construction Co., established by his father. The Hungerford children are Jeffrey, 4; Gregory, 5; and Alan, 7.

Confusion Compounded

Members of county boards of supervisors throughout Michigan must be shaking their heads in bewilderment over the State Supreme Court's split decision Monday holding the one man-one vote law for county boards invalid.

Enacted by the Legislature last year, the law required boards of supervisors to be reapportioned on the basis of population, in keeping with an earlier U. S. Supreme Court decision holding that state legislatures must be apportioned according to the one man-one vote principle. But the Michigan Supreme Court held that the apportionment of county boards according to population violates the State Constitution.

Many supervisors undoubtedly agree with the spirit of the state court's decision, which has the effect of retaining township strength on county boards. But supervisors in the Upper Peninsula at least must wonder about the timing of the court's decision. It was handed down on the very day that marked the deadline under the new law for boards to adopt reapportionment plans in counties with fewer than 75,000 population, which includes all 15 counties above the Straits. (Larger counties would have until May 15 to file their plans.)

Thus even as the Marquette County Board of Supervisors was approving a reapportionment plan Monday afternoon, the State Supreme Court's decision was being announced.

In Delta County the board of supervisors passed the deadline for county board action on reapportionment without any action on the subject. The Legislature hasn't impressed the board with a law on the subject so the Supreme Court didn't affect it either.

The court decision nullified all of the efforts of the Marquette county board's budget and executive committee, which had drafted the reapportionment plan. It washed out actual expenditures of about $1,400 for supervisors' pay and expenses incurred in meetings called expressly to consider reapportionment. Other counties in the state also ran up expenses in this futile project, the amount varying according to the per diem of supervisors, the number of supervisors involved in the deliberations and the amount of mileage reimbursed.

The court's decision would have been more helpful if more timely.

The Supreme Court's action on reapportionment scuttles the Michigan legislative act on implementation of the one-man, one-vote principle proclaimed by the U. S. Supreme Court for apportionment of legislative bodies, but it in no way knocks out the requirement. It must prevail and Michigan will now be forced to find an acceptable way of electing its county supervisors on a basis of equal apportionment.

It could do this, of course, by using the township with the least population as the common denominator of board apportionment, and electing supervisors from the other townships on a basis of proportionate population. This would result in some county boards only slightly smaller than the Roman senate and would be completely ridiculous and unworkable, so it won't happen.

What may happen is that the State Supreme Court will decide that the Michigan Constitution can't pronounce fundamentals that contravene those of the federal government, because the child cannot be given veto power over the parent.

O'Brien: Real Pro

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien is, of course, just about the most complete professional in town.

The other day, after he blistered Democratic state chairmen whose party organizations are in serious disarray, his telephone rang insistently as some of those same chairmen demanded copies of his speech.

Uniquely in his party, and perhaps in politics, O'Brien has the capacity for getting tough without stirring deep personal enmity. Somehow, he conveys a sense of fairness and balance to nearly all persons and factions.

After the heavy Democratic losses of 1966, party figures in many places clamored for drastic change in the Democratic National Committee. It is no secret that O'Brien was their universal choice to lead them out of the woods.

Among those who wanted him as national chairman was Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York. Yet President Johnson's decision to retain Chairman John M. Bailey did not necessarily reflect fear that O'Brien would be a "Kennedy chairman."

It is more likely that the President, having limited respect for the national committee, thinks O'Brien would be at least partly wasted there.

Johnson's trust in O'Brien appears to be deep-set. From their first grave talk on Air Force One returning from Dallas after President Kennedy's assassination in 1963, the two men have had mutually respectful and reasonably warm relations.

It is no quirk of circumstance, therefore, that O'Brien is the only triple-hatted man in the administration: Johnson wants it that way. So O'Brien runs the Post Office Department, labors as he did for more than four years as a key presidential agent in promoting major legislation, and serves LBJ as a top political consultant.

O'Brien still retains his spacious second-floor office in the White House—and he is often there. The President sometimes summons him to the White House two or three times a day.

At his Post Office headquarters, O'Brien presides over a rising volcanic mountain of mail whose management ought to intimidate the world's most efficient business organizer. He refuses to be buffaloed but is embarked instead on a massive effort to get abreast of the difficulties with electronic and mechanical aids uniquely designed for the mail service. He is the first to say the surface has been barely scratched.

Pursuing his goal of modernization, O'Brien hops about the country often on field inspections. Not incidentally, they give him constant chance to talk politics with state and local leaders—and report to the President on these, as he has done at length and in intimate detail from the start.

In 1964 and 1966, O'Brien was the President's crucial political confidant in the heat of the election battles. His appraisals are awaited with the same interest that attends top battlefield reports in war.

Some admirers of the postmaster general's supreme talents as a political organizer think he is being badly "underused" in the political field. However that may be, the situation seems unlikely to change so long as he serves Johnson. For the President plainly is interested in his versatility.

O'Brien is, in fact, so placed that he could go on indefinitely—beyond the Johnson administration—in high political and public service posts. He has no present interest in the six-figure private jobs that have come from time to time being dangled before him. He loves politics and public effort—and most of the people in these endeavors love him.

Largely dead today are the first resentments of some of the more emotional Kennedy intimates over the fact that O'Brien, an original top Kennedy aide, chose to give full loyalty and service from the outset to Lyndon Johnson. A new Kennedy administration almost surely would enlist him prominently.

His friends, across all factions and both parties, have to hope that Larry O'Brien does not get tired. Any party—indeed any country—has to count itself lucky to have him around.

Siberian Town To Have Own Climate

Can people work and enjoy living in a place where winter drags eight months a year and the mercury much too often goes down to 80 or even 90 degrees below zero?

The northern part of the Soviet Union is just such a place but with one addition—it abounds in gold, diamonds, oil, coal and other natural riches. People have to work there. Why not make their life enjoyable?

With this idea a group of young architects from the diamond city of Mirny headed by Nina Bant, an experienced designer of northern towns, set to work and produced a plan of a new town. It is called Aikhal and is to be built near one of the rich diamond deposits of Yakutia, a Soviet republic in Siberia. Construction work starts this year. Displayed at Expo 67 in Montreal will be a scale model of the first stage of this town.

This stage will occupy 30 acres. Its eight five-story apartment houses, accommodating 5,000 people, will be linked by streets which are in effect broad glassed-in galleries. The streets will connect the houses with all the other buildings, forming a single urban complex. Because of permanent frost conditions in the area all the houses and streets of Aikhal rest on piles.

The town is to be provided with a micro-climate of its own so that the glass-covered streets will have a winter temperature of not less than 50 degrees F. This will be a suitable transitional temperature for the inhabitants—diamond miners, geologists and builders—who on leaving the town may find themselves exposed to severe cold. Of course, bus stops will be as close to the houses as possible.

The municipal center is to have stores on the ground floor and a club with a concert hall, movie theatre, library, gym, restaurant and winter garden on the first and second floors. Situated nearby will be a school and the town administration offices.

The "intra-urban" transport fleet will consist of electric cars which will carry food-stuffs and cater to the other needs of the inhabitants, thus providing all kinds of services regardless of the season. The heating of the houses and streets will be by electricity, and electric fire places, hearths and stoves are to be used extensively. A big electric power station now under construction on the Vitui River will provide enough electricity for all the towns in the area.

Catch The Sun The layout of apartments in Aikhal is dictated by prevailing climatic conditions. Living room and bedroom windows overlook the courtyards and streets so as to catch every ray of winter sun while kitchens, pantries and bathrooms have artificial lighting and occupy the inner parts of buildings; thus less wall surface is exposed to the cold air. This layout also results in shorter water pipes, electric cables, sewer conduits and the like and a consequent reduction of estimated construction costs.

The building material used in this project will be an economical silicate concrete which can be produced easily from local sand, lime and diabase and which looks like marble. The project is designed to meet the requirements of all sections of the population. Unmarried people for instance, will have one-room hotel-type apartments with canteens and cafes nearby. Families will be offered apartments with two, three or four rooms. Extensive and imaginative use of color in the new town, both inside and out, will make up for the monotony of the bleak winter landscape.

The township will have sports facilities including a swimming pool and several recreation centers. There will be a big winter garden on the first floor. It is planned to make the houses of light aluminum panels with a foam plastic filler for insulation.

Architects have also developed a type of prefabricated house for the builders of northern towns. The parts of these houses will be transported by air in containers. Assembled, the house will replace the trailers presently used and construction workers who usually lead a semi-nomadic life, will have normal dwellings at each building site instead of temporary ones.

Aikhal will be the first town to open up a basically new type of urban development in the North but it will certainly not be the last.

East Gets His Chance To Err

East's queen. East had to lead away from his king of spades or queen of clubs and East went wrong. He led a club. South played the nine and made his contract.

West pointed out that his play of the three of spades showed three cards in the suit and that East should have been smart enough to lead back a spade.

There was merit in West's contention but West could have saved his partner had he led the ten of spades instead of queen-small of hearts. This would have cost a trick if South held king-small in spades but in that case South would have led a spade from dummy instead of the actual club.

Any time you give your partner a chance to make a mistake he may make one. It pays to play in such manner that he won't go wrong.

South won the opening heart lead with his ace, played his ace of diamonds and led a low one to dummy's king. East dropped a club.

South continued by leading dummy's jack of clubs. East played low. If he had covered with the queen, South would have had no further problems. West won with the ace and cashed his queen of diamonds. East discarded another club. Then West played queen and another heart.

South ruffed. At this point South had lost three tricks and still had potential losers in spades and clubs. He could not make the hand by normal play but he found a way to give East a problem. South led his six of spades. West played the three and dummy's nine was taken by

Ann Landers

Surprise Company; Unwanted Company

Dear Ann Landers: I felt sorry for the young woman whose house was a mess and company dropped in unexpectedly just as she was trying to get a new baby ready for bed. Her husband mumbled something to the guests about how awful the place looked and ended up saying, "My wife hasn't cleaned the house since the baby came."

I agree that the husband should not have said this, but it seems to me too much emphasis is placed on the looks of the house these days and not enough is said about warm-hearted hospitality.

I, for one, feel greatly flattered when unexpected company drops in. I couldn't care less about the hour or the looks of the house. I love people and I figure they are real friends if they feel they can come by without a formal invitation. Do you agree with me, Ann? — OPEN DOOR, OPEN HEART

Dear Open Open: No, I do not. But I'll get back to you later. For now here is a letter from a woman who does agree with you.

Dear Ann Landers: I was upset with your reply to the husband who apologized for the looks of their apartment when unexpected guests dropped in. You said the GUESTS should apologize, since they were the ones who barged in.

Our home is open to anyone and everyone who wishes to enter. I make no pretense of being the world's greatest housekeeper. I happen to like people better than I like cleaning house.

Several years ago we had a sign printed. I placed this sign in our entrance way. It reads: "Although you will find the house a mess, please come in and enjoy yourself. The place doesn't always look like this. Some days it's worse." — EDITH C.

Dear Edith: Thanks for letting us know how it is at your house. And now I will respond to both you and the writer of the last letter.

If you believe an open door means an open heart, you must also believe a closed door means a closed heart. This I feel is unjust. More often than not a closed door simply means, "I am busy."

Since you shared your sign with me, I would like to share one with you. A writer who lives in Michigan told me about it several years ago. It was nailed to the door of his home and read: "If you are unwelcome and unexpected you are also unwelcome. Please go away and let me do my work."

I agree with the wit who said, "The most difficult thing about leisure time is to keep people from using yours."

Dear Ann Landers: Remember the letter from the girl whose Navy boy friend got himself transferred to another part of the world when he learned she was pregnant? She advised all girls whose steady wanted to play house to ask them to sign a paper saying they had slept together on such and such a night. This, she said, would do wonders to diminish (if not kill) the sex drive.

When our daughter turned 16 her father gave her this advice: "If a boy asks you to go the limit to prove your love, tell him he'll have to speak to your father because your father is responsible for you as long as you live under his roof."

Our daughter followed his instructions and said it produced the most shocked expressions she had ever seen.—MRS. J.

Dear Mrs. J: I'm not surprised. If there's anything a guy doesn't want to be reminded of at a time like that it's a girl's father.

Alcohol is no shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only" by Ann Landers. Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Frozen Foods, Meat Bargains

NEW YORK (AP) — A wave of panic buying stripped some stores of their shelves in Chicago this week in the wake of the trucking industry contract dispute.

The same thing happened during the winter snow storms.

At the time of the labor problem, the effect may be the same in the supermarket: limited supplies and higher prices, this week.

Prices rose sharply — 1 to 4 cents a pound in New York City — after weeks of decline. Canned orange juice prices also were raised.

From the convenience, canned corn and a rice price also are headed higher. But there may be bargains on frozen brussels sprouts, frozen dinners and pies, tomato sauce, catup, dietetic fruit cocktail and canned apple, grape, orange, cherry and fruit punches.

Beef steaks and roasts, bacon and hams are featured at meat counters this week, along with turkeys.

Dry onions are moving to market in the southwest and lower Rocky Mountains, where head lettuce prices are up sharply.

Strawberries from eastern Texas and watermelons from Florida also are showing up in the markets.

March Jobless Grew In State

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan unemployment in mid-March was estimated at 164,000, an increase of 6,000 from the mid-February figure of 158,000.

The unemployment figure in mid-March was 4.9 per cent of the labor force. This compared with 4.7 per cent of the labor force in mid-February, reported the State Employment Security Commission.

Civil Service Freezes Welfare Directors' Pay

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Service Commission voted recently to freeze the pay of some 25 county welfare directors and 40 assistants at their current salary levels.

The persons involved are officials of counties whose welfare activities merged last year with the State Social Services Department and came under State Civil Service classifications.

The 65 officials affected receive supplemental pay from the counties as well as their state salaries. The commission said the county supplements range from $200 to $5,200 and the state pay ranges between $8,331 and $15,263 a year.

The welfare officials will not take pay cuts as a result of the commission's action, a spokesman said, but will be ineligible for raises until the state pay for their classifications is raised to the level of their current total compensation.

The commission's action does not affect Wayne County, said Commission Chairman Forrest F. Green.

Turkey President Has MSU Degree

EAST LANSING (AP) — President Ceydet Sunay of Turkey today holds an honorary doctor of laws degree from Michigan State University and the keys to two Michigan cities.

Sunay was in the state Tuesday for a 10-hour visit to Detroit, Lansing and East Lansing as he continued a coast-to-coast tour of the United States. He is in this country for 12 days at the invitation of President Johnson.

Sunay spoke briefly after university President John A. Hannah presented the degree at a special academic convocation.

"Peace, without justice, may well turn to be a means for oppression," Sunay said through an interpreter. "It is not enough for peace to be just — justice must also be strong."

Sunay quoted the late Dag Hammarskjöld: "To become free and responsible: for this alone was man created."

Weather Slows Early Fish Run

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP) — Fish are fickle, admit the experts in the State Conservation Department.

The trouble is, they don't go by the calendar.

Despite poor fishing success during the early opener for steelhead trout, department fisheries men still are sticking with their prediction that rainbow runs this spring will be the best in years.

The weather "April fooled" the fishermen, said Wayne Tody, head of the department's fish division.

"We still think this will be a banner year for steelhead runs," he added, "provided we have reasonably good weather and water conditions."

The department experts predict the runs will peak around mid-April in the Lower Peninsula if the recent warming trend continues.

Steelhead runs in the Upper Peninsula are expected to be their best in late April or early May.

The spawning runs depend entirely on the temperature of the water in the streams.

Smelt runs also are determined by stream temperatures. The small but savory smelt aren't expected to start running in numbers until mid-April or later.

Warren Shapton, deputy director for field operations, reported, meanwhile, that there had been a number of violations of steelhead fishing regulations already reported in the northern Lower Peninsula.

In the short period from March 3 through April 2 alone, 64 persons were charged with violating fishing laws.

Some opened the season on steelheads too early. Others were fishing in water closed to the taking of steelhead trout.

Some incidents of spearing steelheads were reported.

The most common violation was taking the steelheads, stripping them of eggs, then using or selling the eggs for bait.

U.S. Court Holds Draft Card Burn Is "Free Speech"

Aldrich sent the case back to U.S. District Court with instructions to vacate the six-year sentence and impose a new one. He said he feared the original term had been imposed because of the public burning.

Senate Sets Up Study Of Crime

LANSING (AP) — The Senate stepped into the crime study field Wednesday, approving after an hour's debate a resolution establishing a six-member committee to seek ways to reduce Michigan's crime rate.

The Senate committee would be authorized to subpoena witnesses, administer oaths and examine books and records of persons, associations or corporations involved in matters being investigated.

It could hire a staff and request information and aid from any state departments and agencies.

Reject Committee Role
Under Senate rules the crime study panel would be named by a committee composed of the majority and minority party leaders and floor leaders, plus four other senators appointed by the majority caucus.

The debate was on a proposed amendment that would have required that half the Crime Study Committee members be attorneys.

Judiciary Committee Chairman Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, proposed the amendment, which said three of the members of the new committee must be named from his committee, which consists of five lawyers.

Despite spirited defense by attorneys and their supporters, the amendment was killed 22-8 on a roll call vote.

Richardson had argued that the inclusion of attorneys would readily provide legal advice during the committee's studies. He noted that three of the Judiciary members are former county prosecutors.

But Sen. Raymond Dziedzic, D-Detroit, sponsor of the resolution, said the committee could hire attorneys and consult with the attorney general for legal advice.

Sen. Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit, urged the Senate to "get some practical men on the committee who are not tied up with judges and the legal profession."

Rules Violation?
Democratic Sen. Sander Levin of Berkeley argued that failing to put Judiciary Committee members on the crime group violated Senate rules.

He said a rule requires that special legislation touching the domain of a committee be assigned to that committee, although it need not have exclusive domain over the legislation.

"If we take this course we might as well dispense with the committee system," Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, argued fruitlessly.

The Senate and House spent most of the day in committee meetings, preparing for today's deadline for committees to report out bills in the house where they were introduced.

Powell Wants To Win Court Case

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell has won back the congressional seat from which he was excluded but rumors here and in New York indicate he is more interested in winning his Washington court case.

The reason is 22 years of seniority.

But Powell isn't ready to tip his hand. Asked about reports he would subordinate presentation of his election certificate to pursuit of his suit against Congress for excluding him, Powell replied: "No comment."

Those two words were about all Powell would say in the presence of newsmen. He said his attorneys had instructed him to say nothing for the present.

An aide said an attorney and O'Dell Clark, senior deacon of the Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem, were en route to Bimini to confer with the Harlem preacher-politician.

By MRS. I. R. NELSON

The old must give way to the changing times and the Chicago & North Western Railway station at Bark River, built in 1882, is being razed.

The station, or depot as it was always called, has changed very little through the years. When it was closed Sept. 22, 1965, someone hung a plaque on the warehouse door which read: "Obituary. The C&N.W. Railway died here on Sept. 22, 1965. Age 83 yrs."

Robert Robinson, Sr., 2 Bark River, was station agent four years prior to the closing, which was approved by the State Public Service Commission, Lansing.

The first Bark River station agent in 1882 was Collins. He was succeeded by Brestette, James Flannery, William Coates, 1884; Charles Hagerston, 1888-89; E. J. Bergman, 89-93; Patrick J. Breen, 93-99; J. H. Boyle, 99-1902; F. A. Wademan, 1902-06; Carl G. Huss, 06-55; Ernest Ranger, 55-59; Ray Olson, 59-61 and Robinson, 1961 to closing.

Logging Was King

In the early days, Bark River was a busy station because of the lumbering in the area. Each side of the track was lined with logs, bolts, ties and lagging piled high awaiting the spruce loading and shipping.

Competition was keen among the logging camps to see which camp could haul out the biggest load of logs. The team, teamster and top loader all shared in the honors.

Some old messages and train orders were found in the building during the process of tearing down. All were dated May, 1888, and apparently there were water problems then as well as now. One message, dated May 14, 1888, read: "The Menominee River raised 8 inches last night. If you have any rock at Escanaba, please send it. W. M."

Another said, "Bridge two miles east of Crystal Falls is afloat and not safe for trains. Will have transfers for them today." One dated May 15, 1888 pleaded "Please return the 4 sacks potatoes that you are over without any marks to Bark River, weight 450 lbs. They were loaded by mistake. C. E. H." Initials were those of Charles Hagerston, Bark River station agent.

Park To Get Signs
In another, two Bark River people were mentioned: "G. B. W. Reed the box marked S. Belanger reported short by me. I am short two boxes soap marked J. B. Frechette. Train No. 13. Conductor Connors. C. E."

H. The Connors mentioned very probably was the late Steve Connors.

The building is being razed by Cecil Wery and his three young sons, Gordon, Louis and Jerry, of Rte. 1, Gladstone. Wery, an engineer on the C&N.W. railway, is salvaging the material to build a workshop.

The Bark River signs on the depot will be put up at Pulaski Park, one mile west of town. In a few months the old station, so familiar to all, will be just a memory.

The April meeting of the Silver Spur Saddle Club will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Mead Rod and Gun Clubhouse, located on the Escanaba River at the Gladstone bridge. A film "Youth and the Quarter Horse" will be shown.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson in Circuit Court for Delta County has granted the following divorces: Cynthia Anne Scheeneman from Carl Edward; Rose M. Malmstead from Bruce A.; Kenneth C. Botwright from Alvina; Joan Johnson from Edward.

Harley D. LaCarte, 17, of Cornell, pleaded guilty in Municipal Court today to a charge of being a minor in possession of beer and was ordered to pay a fine and costs totaling $30 or go to jail for 30 days. He was arrested by Escanaba police at 10:45 p. m. Wednesday after he had been stopped for a traffic violation. He was ticketed for leaving an alley without halting and no operator's license.

Escanaba firemen reported their investigation disclosed a gas leak in the 1600 block, 2nd Ave. N., when they were summoned at 9 a. m. today, and that they notified the Michigan Consolidated Natural Gas Co. of the situation. The line apparently was damaged when dwellings were removed from the area north of the Junior High School cafeteria building.

Censure For Tree Removal

LANSING (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate Wednesday a resolution criticizing the State Highway Department's tree removal policy and urging that it be re-evaluated.

The resolution, sponsored by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, was chiefly aimed at saving about 70 trees along a 1.6-mile stretch of M53 south of Almont—in Spencer's district.

The resolution said the department's policy of removing trees within 20 feet of a roadway "should be tempered with the preservation of trees wherever possible."

It said department records showed there had been no serious auto wrecks on that section of M 53 since 1963.

Another resolution, introduced Wednesday by 11 House Democrats and referred to committee, would put the Legislature on record as urging Congress to increase from $600 to $1,200 the federal income tax exemption per dependent.

The resolution noted the $600 figure was established in 1939 and that costs and taxes have risen considerably since then.

Three Teachers Receive Grants

Three Bay de Noc Community College faculty members are recipients of summer grants to attend National Science Foundation Institutes across the country.

Richard Verch, biology instructor; George Peterson, mathematics instructor; and Howard Erickson, physics instructor, will attend six or eight week institutes designed to improve instructional quality on the college level.

Verch was selected from among 450 applicants to attend the NSF Institute for College Biology Instructors at Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon, from June 28-Aug. 4.

A native of Wakefield, Verch received his B. S. degree from Northland College, Ashland, Wisconsin, and his M. S. degree from Northern Michigan University. He previously taught in secondary schools at Duluth and Ashland and was a graduate assistant at Northern Michigan University before joining the College faculty here last September.

Another first year instructor at Bay de Noc Community College, George Peterson, will attend the NSF Mathematics Institute for College Teachers at Rutgers University, June 19-Aug. 11.

Peterson's grant provides for weekly stipends and travel allowance. About 50 participants from across the nation are expected to attend the institute. He is a native of Escanaba and has previously taught at Sturgeon Bay High School and Rock River Township Schools. He attended Michigan Technological University and received his B. S. and M. S. degrees from Northern Michigan University.

A third year member of the College faculty here, Howard Erickson, has been selected one of 30 participants to attend the NSF Summer Institute for College Teachers of Physics at the University of Kansas. The eight week institute is scheduled for July 26-Aug. 18 on the Lawrence, Kan., campus.

MORE AND MORE classrooms are being built in the nation's schools to accommodate the continuing flood of students. The above map shows the number of additional classrooms provided during the 1965-66 school year in each state. Most states built more "new" classrooms than the top figure indicates, but the "additional" classrooms figure was deduced by subtracting the number of classrooms abandoned in the same year from the number of new ones provided. Figures were not available for a few states, shown here with only the total classrooms listed. One state, Tennessee, built 739 new rooms, but abandoned 794, according to the United States Office of Education.

Old Glasses Can Aid Needy Here

"We receive money for new glasses for local children each year from this group," says Dr. Mary L. Cretens in annual announcement of the collection of old glasses for New Eyes For The Needy, Inc.

Dr. Cretens heads the Delta Menominee Health Department. She says New Eyes For The Needy is endorsed by the National Society for the prevention of Blindness, Fight for Sight, Inc., and the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology.

New Eyes never asks for money, it derives all its income from the refining and distribution of items useless to donors. It solicits metal frames of spectacles in any condition, unbroken plastic frames with lenses, sunglasses, artificial eyes, cataract lenses, soft cases, hearing aids and metal scrap such as old watches, broken or out-dated jewelry (real, costume and antique), dentures with bits of gold, damaged silver, etc.

It cannot use loose lenses or hard cases.

Metal framed glasses and metal scrap are sold to a refinery and the money received is used to purchase new prescription glasses and artificial eyes for the needy served by agencies like the Delta Menominee Health Department. Reusable plastic framed glasses are tested, classified and sent abroad to medical missions and welfare agencies for distribution. Over half a million persons have been helped by New Eyes.

The Voice. Anybody's voice. Your voice. It has a special quality and timbre all its own. But...

If it should become hoarse or if a cough should persist, find out what the reason is. Promptly. It could be a warning signal of cancer. And cancer is easier to cure when it's detected early.

Frank Sinatra knows the seven warning signals of cancer. Do you?

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge. 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. A sore that does not heal. 4. Change in bowel or bladder habits. 5. Hoarseness or cough. 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Change in a wart or mole.

If a signal lasts longer than two weeks, see your doctor without delay.

It makes sense to know the seven warning signals of cancer.

It makes sense to give to the American Cancer Society.

Johnson, Tragic Figure: Toynbee

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—President Johnson will be viewed by future historians as a tragic figure, says Arnold Toynbee.

The 77-year-old British historian gave his opinion Monday as he began a visiting professorship at Stanford University.

"Humanity is dancing on the edge of a precipice," he warned. He said the President appeared more interested in face-saving than in "ending a barbarous war which threatens the foundations of American democracy."

Johnson is an abler politician than the late President John F. Kennedy, Toynbee said, but his ability to "fix Congress is having a dangerous effect. The attitude of 'my government right or wrong' is really the death of democracy. I hope this is going to be reversed."

Smith Campaigns On A Love Slate

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Larry Smith is campaigning for student body president at Portland State College on a love slate.

At a campaign rally Wednesday, there was bussing, hugging, laughing and passing out lollipops. Supporters handed out campaign buttons that said, "We love you."

"Other candidates' slates are running on platforms of integrity, student voice, responsibility, etc.," Smith said. "We think the students are more interested in love — all kinds of it — and will show this when they vote."

"We figure that if love can make the world go 'round, it can make the campus go 'round, too."

He is running against five other candidates.

Cernan's Diving Mask Fogs Up

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Eugene A. Cernan, taking diving instructions Wednesday, got a reminder in the Navy pool of his space-walking troubles last June. His mask fogged up.

Cernan's promenade in space during a Gemini 9 flight had to be cut short because perspiration put a blinding fog across the visor of his space helmet. The same thing happened Wednesday during training which the astronauts are getting to familiarize them with functioning under water.

Cohos Taken In Peninsula

The highlight of the spring fishing season thus far appears to be the early opening Lake Superior streams and their mouths for rainbow trout. Success in the Marquette-Alger County area has not been spectacular to date, but, it will improve as the season progresses, the Conservation Department forecasts.

Snow is rapidly disappearing, but ice conditions are still prevalent in some areas, with high water conditions. The catch of the recently introduced coho salmon, while not great, is encouraging. Each day seems to see a few running about 16 1/2" taken by trolling at the mouths of Lake Superior streams.

These salmon are considered part of the trout family and may be taken and possessed only as part of the all-inclusive trout limit which consists of a combined total of 5 from lakes and 10 from streams, but not more than 10 pounds and one fish in combination.

Smelt and perch runs have not as yet developed, however, the ice has recently left Bay de Noc and activity for these species can soon be expected, says Robert W. Timmer, district law supervisor.

Police Warn Dog Owners

Local dog owners were again warned today to keep their pets confined to their premises and acting Chief of Police, James Norick, said dog owners who do not comply with ordinance 505 will be issued a summons.

Many residents are complaining of dogs being permitted to run at large both day and night and in some incidences the barking and howling during the night has caused great inconvenience, Norick said. Mothers of small children find it hard to let their children play in their own yards because of the dogs.

Norick said dog owners who do not have their dogs under control as the ordinance specifies may be found guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable for the same. The maximum penalty for a misdemeanor is $100 fine or 30 days in jail or both.

Since Gladstone no longer has a dog warden or a place to confine dogs picked up while running at large, the local police department will take action to protect the rights of the citizens who strenuously object to having to clean their yards before allowing their children to go outside to play.

Take Rainbows In Carp River

The Carp River in Mackinac County received play over the weekend in the rainbow trout fishing early season, with a few 7-8 pound fish taken, the Conservation Department reports. The river is high and roily, with roads muddy.

A few fish (small males) were taken on the Two Hearted, and a few larger fish were observed rising near ice floes off the mouth in Lake Superior. A few rainbow were taken from the Sucker River.

The Michigan Northern Power Canal is providing some excitement for steelhead fishermen. Most fishing is off the Portage Avenue bridge.

A few whitefish were taken in the St. Mary's River and the Power Canal at Sault Ste. Marie, and a few cisco on Whitefish Lake, in morning hours. Ice is candled and considered unsafe.

Good menominee catches are being made in Lake Superior off the mouth of the Blind Sucker River. The best fishing is with southerly winds. Some also are being taken at the mouths of the Big and Little Two-Hearted and the Sucker rivers.

Nice yellow perch catches were reported from Millequins Lake, Big Manistique and Bass lakes. Munuscong Bay produced some jumbos. Ice is unsafe on all of these lakes, and in the bay has deteriorated.

BAY CITY (AP)—The first series of preliminary sea trials will be Friday for the U.S. Navy destroyer escort USS Koelsch, one of three such vessels being built by Defoe Shipbuilding Co. under a $26 million Navy contract.

About 20 Defoe employees are expected to be aboard the 414-foot warship when she is put through 22 hours of initial sea tests. Navy experts will go aboard the Koelsch later this month to supervise a similar, two-day trial for the ship.

The Koelsch, designed to find and destroy enemy submarines, is scheduled to leave for the Atlantic through the St. Lawrence Seaway in May.

The ship is unique in its use of new drone-operated antisubmarine helicopters that will be housed in special hangars on the Koelsch's fantail.
